Compare	Identify similarities and differences	This chair has four legs, a seat and a back rest. The other chair I am considering has three legs, a seat and a back rest. Both are made from wood however the type of wood is different. This has made a considerable difference to the weight of the chair and I would have to bear this in mind for things like ease of positioning and cleaning. The three legged chair looks very contemporary whilst the four legged chair is more traditional. Both are fit for purpose and would suit the size and style of table. The biggest difference between the chairs is cost. The three legged chair costs considerably more than the four legged chair and bearing in mind I would need four chairs, cost could be a deciding factor.

Chairs can be made in many different styles and use a variety of materials. The design and material choice are reflected in the cost of the chair. Review	To consider something in order to make changes to it, give an option on it or study it	Having tried out and researched chairs it is possible to categorise and label the many different types of chair. There were pros and cons to each design and material sampled but it would appear four legged chairs are the most reliable. Back rests vary considerably but those that form an S shape did suit the back shape the best. There is a chair out there to suit every individual, diddy chairs, huge chairs, funky chairs, traditional chairs made from a multitude of different materials. The majority of chairs seemed to combine materials and all were aesthetically pleasing to the user. Ultimately the chair you choose has to be suitable for the space in which it will be placed, it must be fit for purpose and it must be safe to use. Selecting a chair is a matter for personal choice and personal finances. The cost of a chair varies greatly, a bespoke piece of furniture made from a precious or less common material can be highly expensive. Mass manufactured, flat packed chairs or those made from cheaper materials may suit the poorer wallet.
