THE IMPERIAL WAR MUSEUM NORTH, MANCHESTER

The *Imperial War Museum North tells the story of war from 1900 to the present day. This Museum shows the way war has destroyed our world.

The unusual building, by the famous architect Daniel Libeskind, is in three sections, representing war in the air, on land and on sea.

- You enter the building through the *Air Shard, a 55-metre high tower. Then you take the lift to the top, from where you have a magnificent view of the city.
- The main area of the museum is the *Earth Shard. The shop and information point are on the ground floor and the main exhibition is on the first floor. There is an audio-visual show every hour lasting 15 minutes.
- The *Water Shard has the canal side restaurant where you can relax with a snack or meal and ponder what you have just seen in the museum.
