

Immersive (Virtual) Worlds

An Immersive World (Virtual World) is a 3-D virtual reality world in which people can communicate and interact with other “virtual people”, usually know as “Avatars”.....

The most common Immersive World is known as “Second Life” and in recent times, universities and businesses have created virtual worlds in which their students and employees respectively, can engage and interact with each other virtually.....so not actually being there in person, but communication online (or virtually).

Extension task:

On the table, list the different reasons that you use the internet:

In each of the 2 subsequent columns, grade each reason of importance (with 1 being highest) for:

- Most important to you
- Most dangerous for children

| Description (reason) | a. | b. |
|----------------------|----|----|
