

Mark Scheme for January 2013

OCR (Oxford Cambridge and RSA) is a leading UK awarding body, providing a wide range of qualifications to meet the needs of candidates of all ages and abilities. OCR qualifications include AS/A Levels, Diplomas, Cambridge Nationals, Cambridge Technicals, Functional Skills, Key Skills, Entry Level qualifications, NVQs and vocational qualifications in areas such as IT, business, languages, teaching/training, administration and secretarial skills.

It is also responsible for developing new specifications to meet national requirements and the needs of students and teachers. OCR is a not-for-profit organisation; any surplus made is invested back into the establishment to help towards the development of qualifications and support, which keep pace with the changing needs of today's society.

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and students, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which marks were awarded by examiners. It does not indicate the details of the discussions which took place at an examiners' meeting before marking commenced.

All examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the published question papers and the report on the examination.

OCR will not enter into any discussion or correspondence in connection with this mark scheme.

Subject-specific Marking Instructions

Before you commence marking each question you must ensure that you are familiar with the following:

- the requirements of the specification
- these instructions
- the exam questions (found in the exam paper which will have been emailed to you along with this document)
- levels of assessment criteria *<sub>1</sub> (found in the 'Levels of Assessment' grid at the back of this document)
- question specific indicative content given in the 'Answer' column*<sub>2</sub>
- question specific guidance given in 'Guidance' column*<sub>3</sub>
- the 'practice' scripts*<sub>4</sub> provided in Scoris and accompanying comment (where provided).

*<sub>1</sub> The levels of assessment criteria (found in the 'Levels of Assessment' grid) reflect the expectation of achievement for each Assessment Objective at every level.

*<sub>2</sub> The indicative content in the 'Answer' column provides details of points that candidates may be likely to make. It is not exhaustive or prescriptive and points not included in the indicative content, but which are valid within the context of the question, are to be credited. Similarly, it is possible for candidates to achieve top level marks without citing all the points suggested in the scheme.

*<sub>3</sub> Included in the 'Guidance' column are the number of marks available for each assessment objective contained within the question. It also includes the 'characteristics' which a response in a particular level is likely to demonstrate. For example, "a level 4 response is likely to include accurate reference to all 5 stages of x with supporting detail and an accurate link to the source". In some instances an answer may not display all of the 'characteristics' detailed for a level but may still achieve the level nonetheless.

*<sub>4</sub> The 'practice' scripts are live scripts which have been chosen by the Principal Examiner (and senior examining team). These scripts will represent most types of responses which you will encounter. The marks awarded to them and accompanying commentary (which you can see by changing the view to 'definitive marks') will demonstrate how the levels of assessment criteria and marking guidance should be applied.

As already stated, neither the indicative content, 'characteristics' or practice scripts are prescriptive and/or exhaustive. It is imperative that you remember at all times that a response which:

- differs from examples within the practice scripts; or,
- includes valid points not listed within the indicative content; or,
- does not demonstrate the 'characteristics' for a level

may still achieve the same level and mark as a response which does all or some of this. Where you consider this to be the case you should discuss the candidate's response with your supervisor to ensure consistent application of the mark scheme.

Awarding Assessment Objectives 1 and 2

To award the level for the AO1 or AO2 (some questions may contain both AO1 and AO2 marks) use the levels of assessment criteria and the guidance contained within the mark scheme to establish which level the response achieves. As per point 10 of the above marking instructions, when determining which level to award start at the highest* level and work down until you reach the level that matches the answer.

Once you have established the correct level to award to the response you need to determine the mark within the level. The marks available for each level differ between questions. Details of how many marks are available per level are provided in the Guidance column. Where there is more than one mark available within a level you will need to assess where the response 'sits' within that level. Guidance on how to award marks within a level is provided below, with the key point being that you start at the middle* of each level and work outwards until you reach the mark that the response achieves.

Answers, which contain no relevant material at all, should receive no marks.

For answers marked by levels of response:

Descriptor	Award mark
On the borderline of this level and the one below	At bottom of level
Just enough achievement on balance for this level	Above bottom and either below middle or at middle of level (depending on number of marks available)
Meets the criteria but with some slight inconsistency	Above middle and either below top of level or at middle of level (depending on number of marks available)
Consistently meets the criteria for this level	At top of level

Awarding Assessment Objective 3

AO3 marks are awarded based on the marks achieved for either AO1, AO2 or in some cases, the total of AO1 and AO2. You must refer to each question's mark scheme for details of how to calculate the AO3 mark.

Rubric

What to do for the question the candidate has not answered?

The rubric for G152 instructs candidates to answer one question all parts, eg question 1(a) – 1(c)(ii) or question 2(a) – 2(c)(ii). So each script you look at should have a response for either question 1 or question 2. For the question the candidate has not answered you should record a NR (No Response) in the mark column on the right-hand side of the screen. Do not record a 0.

What to do for the candidate who has ‘violated’ the rubric and attempted to answer question 1 and question 2?

You should mark both questions (all parts). Scorers will then work out the total mark for Question 1 and the total mark for Question 2 – it will award the candidate the highest mark of the two totals.

Blank pages and missed answers

Sometimes candidates will skip a few pages in their answer booklet and continue or add to a response. To be sure you have not missed any candidate response when you come to mark the part (c)(ii) question you must check every page of each script and annotate any blank pages with

 You must also check any additional items eg A1, A. This will let your team leader, OCR and the centre know that you have seen every page.

	(i)	Recognise that the instant court cannot overrule the earlier case (CP). Discuss the reason – that the later case is bound by the earlier case because the Practice Statement has not yet been published (even if the result were unjust). Consider the alternative method of distinguishing. Use an appropriate case such as London Street Tramways or any distinguishing case. Credit relevant reference to the source.	5	Responses will be unlikely to achieve level four without identifying the CP* and explaining 'why' and explaining one other relevant point.
	(ii)	Recognise that the instant court can overrule the decision of the earlier court (CP). Discuss the reason – the earlier decision was per incuriam which is one of the recognised exceptions under Youngs v Bristol Aeroplane (1944) (do not accept Youngs as a case). Use a relevant case – Williams v Fawcett (1986) . Consider also the possibility of distinguishing. Credit any relevant distinguishing case. Credit relevant reference to the source.	5	Responses will be unlikely to achieve level three without identifying the CP* and explaining 'why'.  Responses will be unlikely to achieve level two without identifying the CP*.  Responses will be unlikely to achieve level one without making basic points of relevance.
	(iii)	Recognise that the instant court can overrule the decision of the earlier court (CP). Discuss the reason – because the new UK Supreme Court has stated that the Practice Statement 1966 continues to apply in the same way as it did in the House of Lords. Credit reference to Austin v Southwark LBC (2010) . Consider the possibility of distinguishing. Credit any reference to a relevant distinguishing case. Credit relevant reference to the source (cannot credit Austin twice in this context).	5	* Accept other expressions of the CP including simple Yes/No.  For (b)(ii) and (b)(iii) credit may also be given for considering the possibility that a decision of the ECJ, ECHR or Privy Council may be followed in some circumstances.

Also provides stability for business and other fiscal arrangements to be founded on</li> <li>• Fairness &amp; Consistency ... like cases are treated alike which is fair, just, certain and rational. The law is not subject to whims of individual judges which lends greater credibility</li> <li>• Flexibility ... despite a fairly rigid system overall, the system allows room for development through distinguishing, overruling and so on which means judges can develop the law to meet changing social , political or moral conditions</li> <li>• Precision ... in a system which has been refining law over hundreds of years the law becomes very precise as minor variations on the same principles arise</li> <li>• Time – Saving ... because we have such a vast body of precise law to rely on cases do not have to be constantly re-argued from first principle saving lawyers, the court and clients time and money.</li> </ul> A discussion of the following disadvantages: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Rigidity ... Precedent can make the law too inflexible with bad decisions being perpetuated – especially if it takes a long time for suitable cases to get to the senior courts that can change the law (R v R [1992]). Furthermore, such cases may only get to the senior courts where the parties have the money, courage and persistence to appeal their case</li> <li>• Complexity ... with hundreds of thousands of reported cases it is difficult to identify and locate relevant case law, (even with computerised databases). The judgements themselves are sometimes very long with no clear distinction between obiter and ratio (Dodd’s Case [1973])</li> </ul>	12	<table border="1" data-bbox="1451 228 2027 406" style="width: 100%; border-collapse: collapse;"> <thead> <tr> <th style="text-align: center;">AO2 Levels</th> <th style="text-align: center;">AO2 Marks</th> </tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td style="text-align: center;">4</td> <td style="text-align: center;">10–12</td> </tr> <tr> <td style="text-align: center;">3</td> <td style="text-align: center;">7–9</td> </tr> <tr> <td style="text-align: center;">2</td> <td style="text-align: center;">4–6</td> </tr> <tr> <td style="text-align: center;">1</td> <td style="text-align: center;">1–3</td> </tr> </tbody> </table> Responses will be unlikely to achieve level four without four or more developed points one of which must be well developed. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Illogical Distinctions ... practices such as ‘distinguishing’ lead to ‘hair-splitting’ which, in its turn, can lead to certain areas of law becoming over-complex. The minor differences between some cases can be so small as to make the distinction appear illogical</li> <li>• Slowness Of Growth ... unless parliament legislate, there is nothing the judges can do to reform the law – their hands are tied until suitable cases come along (note Denning’s argument for the Court of Appeal having greater powers as so few cases get to the HL)</li> <li>• Judicial Law Making ... There is a strongly held view that judges can and do use precedent to ‘make law’ (eg R v R [1991]) and that they do not have the mandate to do so because, according to the theories of separation of powers and supremacy of parliament, only parliament should make law. However, many judges argue that they are simply adapting existing legal rules to fit changing social conditions (so-called declaratory theory).</li> </ul> Responses are not required to reference the sources in this question but may attract credit from relevant use of the source.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• It is a redundant rule – it is no longer needed now we have the purposive approach</li> <li>• The rule dates back to a time (Heydon's Case (1584)) when statute was a minor source of law and Parliament often legislated to circumvent the common law. This may mean the rule is less appropriate now that the quality and quantity of legislation is so different</li> <li>• Credit any other relevant disadvantage.</li> </ul> Credit discussion of the following question as appropriate: Is there any difference between the purposive approach and the mischief rule? Yes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The purposive approach goes further – the mischief rule is only applied where there was a gap (a fault) in the common law, whereas the purposive approach applies whether the area covered by the Act was previously governed by statute or common law</li> <li>• The purposive approach is an extension of the contextual approach based on literalism. The mischief rule pre-dates both of these</li> <li>• The mischief rule, as originally applied, was an attempt to restrict the scope of the court's enquiry into the Act itself, whereas the purposive approach allows much wider consultation as seen in the extensive use of extrinsic aids</li> <li>• Credit any reference to Glanville William's comments on this point as set out in Source B.</li> </ul> Make relevant reference to the source.

AS GCE Law Levels of Assessment

There are four levels of assessment of AOs 1 and 2 in the AS units. Level 4 is the highest level that can reasonably be expected from a candidate at the end of the first year of study of an Advanced GCE course. Similarly, there are three levels of assessment of AO3 in the AS units.

Level	Assessment Objective 1	Assessment Objective 2	Assessment Objective 3 (includes QWC)
4	Good, well-developed knowledge with a clear understanding of the relevant concepts and principles. Where appropriate candidates will be able to elaborate by good citation to relevant statutes and case-law.	Ability to identify and analyse issues central to the question showing some understanding of current debate and proposals for reform or identify most of the relevant points of law in issue. Ability to develop clear arguments or apply points of law clearly to a given factual situation and reach a sensible and informed conclusion.
3	Adequate knowledge showing reasonable understanding of the relevant concepts and principles. Where appropriate candidates will be able to elaborate with some citation of relevant statutes and case-law.	Ability to analyse most of the more obvious points central to the question or identify the main points of law in issue. Ability to develop arguments or apply points of law mechanically to a given factual situation, and reach a conclusion.	A good ability to present logical and coherent arguments and communicates relevant material in a clear and effective manner using appropriate legal terminology. Reward grammar, spelling and punctuation.
2	Limited knowledge showing general understanding of the relevant concepts and principles. There will be some elaboration of the principles, and where appropriate with limited reference to relevant statutes and case-law.	Ability to explain some of the more obvious points central to the question or identify some of the points of law in issue. A limited ability to produce arguments based on their material or limited ability to apply points of law to a given factual situation but without a clear focus or conclusion.	An adequate ability to present logical and coherent arguments and communicates relevant material in a reasonably clear and effective manner using appropriate legal terminology. Reward grammar, spelling and punctuation.
1	Very limited knowledge of the basic concepts and principles. There will be limited points of detail, but accurate citation of relevant statutes and case-law will not be expected.	Ability to explain at least one of the simpler points central to the question or identify at least one of the points of law in issue. The approach may be uncritical and/or unselective.	A limited attempt to present logical and coherent arguments and communicates relevant material in a limited manner using some appropriate legal terminology. Reward grammar, spelling and punctuation.

Marking Guidance

This marking guidance should be used in conjunction with the above mark scheme, levels of assessment grid, Practice and Standardisation scripts. If you are unsure about what level and/or mark to reward you must contact your team leader.

Q1(a) A mark ('P') a point which can simply be counted off and converted to levels subject to rules detailed below:

List (not exhaustive) to include:

- A definition of distinguishing (1)
  - An basic explanation of the 'mechanics' of distinguishing (1)
  - A better explanation of the 'mechanics' of distinguishing (1)
- May all be in one sentence
- Mere mention of one of a pair of distinguishing cases (1) each (but no credit for using the source cases)
  - Explanation of the facts of one of a pair of cases (1) each
  - Explanation of the legal principle of one of a pair of cases (1) each
  - Explanation of the distinguishing principle (eg for Balfour/Merritt - the later case was distinguished because there was evidence of an intention to create legal relations and therefore a contract whereas in Balfour the court said the couple only had a social and domestic arrangement which could not amount to a contract; for Brown/Wilson – the later case decided you could consent to harm done in the context of personal adornment but not (as in the earlier case) in the context of sexual pleasure)
  - Reference to the effect of distinguishing – such as: it becomes a new binding precedent, it allows a judge the freedom to escape otherwise binding precedents, it can lead to very fine and precise distinctions etc (but not AO2 such as 'it is misused by activist judges' or framing points in an AO2 context such as 'a disadvantage of ...') (1) each
  - A definition of binding precedent (1)
  - Explain that the ratio of a case is the binding element (1) (distinguish ratio from obiter (1))
  - Explain difference between binding and persuasive precedent (1)
  - Mere mention of a case example (1)
  - Illumination (facts or principle/binding precedent) of a case example (1)
  - Any other relevant point (1)

NB: Responses placed in L4 should include BOTH distinguishing AND binding precedent, use of a case (for both) and a LNK (only once require) (ie max 9 + 3).

Annotations:

'P' for a point

LNK for link to source

X for incorrect point

wiggly line for vague or not relevant

Q1(b)(i), (ii), (iii)

L1 = Any relevant point(s) (eg distinguishing or use of source only)

L2 = CP (bound or not bound) accept other language that expresses the same – e.g. will have to follow, must do the same or even simple YES/NO response to command (but not reversing which is not relevant to any of the three questions)

(b)(i) BOUND

(b)(ii) NOT BOUND OR BOUND (two route answer – see below)

(b)(iii) BOUND OR NOT BOUND (two route answer – see below)

L3 = CP + ‘WHY’ (MUST ACHIEVE L3 BEFORE CREDIT FOR OTHER RELEVANT POINTS CAN BE GIVEN)

(b)(i) BECAUSE THE HOUSE OF LORDS WAS, IN 1960, ALWAYS BOUND BY IT’S OWN PREVIOUS DECISIONS FOLLOWING THE DECISION IN LONDON STREET TRAMWAYS or IT WAS BEFORE THE PS

(b)(ii) ROUTE 1: BECAUSE THE COURT OF APPEAL ARE FREE TO OVERRULE THEIR OWN PREVIOUS DECISIONS WHERE A YOUNGS EXCEPTION APPLIES or ROUTE 2: BECAUSE THE COURT OF APPEAL IS USUALLY BOUND EXCEPT WHERE A YOUNGS EXCEPTION APPLIES. ALSO SEE NOTES BELOW

(b)(iii) ROUTE 2: BECAUSE THE UKSC IS NORMALLY BOUND BY ITS OWN PREVIOUS DECISIONS (EXCEPT WHERE THE PS APPLIES) or ROUTE 2: BECAUSE THE UKSC IS NOT BOUND BY ITS OWN PREVIOUS DECISIONS DUE TO THE PS

L4 = L3 + SOMETHING ELSE – MOST LIKELY:

(b)(i) Use of London Street Tramways, possibility of distinguishing, per incuriam or a LTS

(b)(ii) Reference to the right Young’s exception (per incuriam), case (e.g. Williams v Fawcett) or a LTS. Also, see note below.

(b)(iii) This question was included to deliberately test whether students recognise the relevance of Practice Statements 3 & 4 and/or Austin v Southwark BC. The question would be too similar to (b)(i) without this. So, the ONLY route to L4 on this question is recognition of the significance of either of these.

Notes for (b)(ii) credit at L3 and/or L4 the possibility that a decision of the ECJ, ECHR or PC might also be followed in some circumstances. Also, cannot use ‘per incuriam’ as both the ‘why’ and a L4 ‘extra’

Annotations = simple L2, L3 and L4 as appropriate next to correct point

Q1(c)(i) A mark ('P') a point which can simply be counted off and converted to levels subject to rules detailed below:

List (not exhaustive) to include:

- Development:
  - Before 1898 free to overrule (1)
  - 1898 decides to stick to previous decisions (1)
  - Mentions London Street Tramways (1)
  - Mentions reason - 'certainty' (1)
  - 1966 recognise need for flexibility (1)
  - 1966 HoL issues PS (1)
  - Any detail on content of PS (eg caution in use for crime and contract, need for certainty etc) (1) each
  - What is does/allows (even if lifted from source) (1)
  - In 2009 HoL transferred powers to UKSC including PS
  - Practice Directions 3 & 4 recognise continued application of PS
  - Austin v Southwark BC (2010) recognises continued validity of PS (do not credit case itself as it's in the source) (1)
  - Any other relevant point (1) eg 'when it appears right to do so', 'first criminal use', 'first major use', 'used sparingly at first'
- Use:
  - Mere mention of a single PS case (1) (eg Herrington)
  - Mere mention of the matching overruled PS case (1) (eg Addie)
  - Any detail on facts of a relevant case (1) each
  - Any detail on principle of a relevant case (1) each
  - Specific isolation of the SINGLE overruling principle (1)
  - Mention of a case where declined to use PS (eg Jones) (1)
  - Any comment on why declined to use (certainty more important than justice in instant case) (1)
- Any other relevant point (1)

NB: Responses placed in L4 should include at least ONE relevant case and a LNK.

No credit can be rewarded for discussing (AO2) the advantages or disadvantages of the use of the PS or the potential for judicial law-making etc

Annotations:

'P' for a point

'C' for a case

LNK for link to source

X for incorrect point

Wiggly line for irrelevant and vague

Contrary to popular opinion, R v R (rape within marriage) is NOT a PS case

Q1(c)(ii)

- L1 – simple points/bald points/lists (1 – 3)
- L2 – 1 or 2 developed points, a range of limited points or a single well developed point (4 – 6)
- L3 – 3 to 4 developed points (could be one-sided – i.e. only considers advantages or disadvantages) or two well-developed points (if balanced move towards top of mark range) (7 – 9)
- L4 – 4 or more developed points of which at least one must be a well developed point – should consider both sides of the argument (but not necessarily balanced) to get low level four but a balanced discussion (e.g. min 2:2) for full marks (10 – 12)
- No LTS required

Annotations:‘P’ for points‘DEV’ for developed points*‘E’ for well developed points

Q2(a)

Level 1 (1 – 3) - Basic point(s)

Level 2 (4 – 6)

Bottom – range of limited points or bald cases or definition (basic or ‘lifted’) alone

Mid - a definition (basic or ‘lifted’) and a bald/source case

Top – Mid plus feature(s)/relevant LNK

Level 3 (7 – 9)

Bottom - definition (basic or ‘lifted’) plus one developed case

Mid – definition (not lifted but may not identify wide and narrow) plus one developed case or definition (basic or ‘lifted’) plus two developed cases

Top – Mid plus feature(s)/relevant LNK

Level 4 (10 – 12)

Bottom - definition of both versions (wide and narrow) plus one developed case

Mid - definition of both versions (wide and narrow) plus a developed case for each

Top – Mid plus feature(s)/relevant LNK

Must include LNK

Notes: Adler v George does not count as a developed case above L2 as it is in the source (annotate with ‘C’ and ‘LNK’). Furthermore, must be a Golden Rule case to be developed. If the candidate uses a case from a different rule but states how the golden rule would apply to it, then this can only be credited as a bald case.

Features should be noted but only influence position within a level – features might include comments such as ‘the rule avoids the absurdity of the literal rule’, ‘the rule provides an escape route from the harshness of the literal rule’ or ‘the wide rule can allow judges to effectively re-write statutes’ but do not credit AO2 especially where the comment is framed in the context of an advantage, disadvantage or effectiveness

NB: Only consider ‘features’ to lift to the top of the level if the candidate has already met the criteria for the middle of the level.

Annotations:

E – developed case

C for (each) case

‘K’ for definitions

LNK for link to source

S Features

X for incorrect point

Wiggly line for irrelevant and vague

Q2(b)

L1 Any relevant point(s) e.g. implicit reasoning with no outcome

L2 = ONE RULE CORRECTLY APPLIED (with or without 'why')

L3 = TWO RULES CORRECTLY APPLIED (with or without 'why')

L4 = THREE RULES CORRECTLY APPLIED OR TWO RULES CORRECTLY APPLIED PLUS SOMETHING ELSE (A RELEVANT CASE, A LTS, MENS REA, INTENT OF ACT ETC)

(b)(i)

LITERAL RULE = GUILTY

GOLDEN RULE = NO APPLICATION NOTED

MISCHIEF RULE/PURPOSIVE APPROACH = GUILTY

TYPICAL 'SOMETHING ELSE' = HAS MENS REA; WITHIN FOUR CORNERS OF THE ACT; AORP

(b)(ii)

LITERAL RULE = NOT GUILTY

GOLDEN RULE = GUILTY

TYPICAL 'SOMETHING ELSE' = SIMILARITY TO ALDER; HAS MENS REA; WITHIN FOUR CORNERS OF THE ACT; AORP

(b)(iii)

LITERAL RULE = NOT GUILTY

GOLDEN RULE = GUILTY

TYPICAL 'SOMETHING ELSE' = WITHIN FOUR CORNERS OF THE ACT; AORP

NB: Giving the incorrect reasoning for a correct outcome cancels out the mark. Also, if the candidate has hedged (two possible outcomes/rules but not committing to either) then they cannot be credited.

FOR LEVEL 2 AND ABOVE THE OUTCOME MUST BE CLEAR – THE RULE MUST BE APPLIED TO A LOGICAL OUTCOME – CANNOT ACCEPT IMPLIED REASONING/OUTCOME. ALSO, CANNOT CREDIT 'HEDGING'

MISCHIEF RULE/PURPOSIVE APPROACH USUALLY TREATED AS ONE - SEPARATE CREDIT CAN ONLY BE GIVEN WHERE EACH IS SUPPORTED BY CLEAR INDEPENDENT REASONS – I.E. FOR THE MR THE MISCHIEF IS MADE CLEAR AS WELL AS PARLIAMENT'S INTENT AND PARLIAMENT'S PURPOSE IS MADE CLEAR FOR THE PA

Annotations = simple L2, L3 and L4 as appropriate next to correct point

Q2(c)(i)

Level 1 (1 – 4) - Basic point(s)

Level 2 (5 - 8)

Bottom – range of limited points or bald case

Middle – a definition (including ‘lifted’ or basic) and a case

Top – Mid plus feature(s)/relevant LNK

Level 3 (9 - 12)

Bottom - definition (basic or ‘lifted’) plus a developed case

Mid – definition (basic or ‘lifted’) plus two developed cases OR a good definition plus one developed case

Top – Mid plus feature(s)/relevant LNK

Level 4 (13 - 15)

Bottom – good definition plus two developed cases

Mid – good definition plus three cases (at least two well-developed)

Top – Mid plus feature(s)/relevant LNK

Must include LNK

NB: Heydon’s Case and Spath Holme (annotate as ‘C’ and ‘LNK’) do not count as developed cases as they are in the source and Purposive Approach cases should not be accepted unless a clear ‘mischief’ is identified (unlikely)

Features should be noted but only influence position within a level – features might include comments such as ‘it is the oldest rule of interpretation’ or ‘the rule can lead to accusations of judicial law-making’ or ‘the rule relies on the availability of extrinsic aids’ or ‘the rule may be limited where it is difficult to establish the mischief’ but do not credit AO2 especially where the comment is framed in the context of an advantage, disadvantage or effectiveness

Annotations:

‘K’ for definitions

LNK for link to source

C for each case

E developed case

X for incorrect point

Wiggly line for irrelevant and vague

S Features

Q2(c)(ii)

- L1 – simple points/bald points/lists (1 – 3)
- L2 – 1 or 2 developed points, a range of limited points or a single well -developed point (4 – 6)
- L3 – 3 to 4 developed points (could be one-sided – i.e. only considers advantages or disadvantages) or two well-developed points (if balanced move towards top of mark range) (7 – 9)
