OCR’s Active Results is a free, online results analysis service that allows centres to review their pupils’ results in detail, collectively or individually, from OCR examinations. This enables centres to comprehensively analyse their achievements and will also highlight any areas of the specification requiring a greater teaching focus.

For A Level Psychology, Active Results enables centres to review results in a variety of different ways:
- by centre and specification, comparing with the national proportions for each grade
- by candidate, showing raw marks against the national averages
- by candidate breakdown of topics
- by the candidate’s individual marks for each question, compared against the national average (useful for candidates who are resitting to identify areas of weakness).

Reports can be generated and exported in a variety of formats and stored for student/centre records.
First of all you will need to access and log in to the OCR Interchange website using the url below.

https://interchange.ocr.org.uk

1. To log in you will require a user name and password, usually arranged and authorized for you by your examinations officer in your centre.

2. To access all the many and varied ways to review and analyse your results hover your mouse over the 'Results' button here.

3. This brings up a drop down menu of options you can then select.

4. Clicking 'Results by assessment' brings up this screen.

   - Enter exam session here
   - Enter Unit code here - eg G541 (for Psychological Investigations)
5. Click here to view results from all the candidates in your centre.
More detailed review and analysis options are available

1. A variety of much more detailed, statistical analyses comparing candidates within your centre and against candidates for the national is available by clicking the ‘Active Results’ option from the drop down menu.

2. This brings up a number of different options to choose from.
3. Enter ‘Psychology’ in the Subject box and the exam date you want to review in the Series box.

4. Choose the type of report you want from the drop down menu here (e.g. ‘Question Level Analysis’).

This then shows a breakdown comparing your centre with the national average for each question on the paper, with a bar chart clearly showing how much above or below the average your centre is.
The ‘Unit Series Comparison’ option from is a useful way to see how your centre compares to the national average across a number of different exam sessions.

Click on ‘Specification Reports’ to review your centre against the national average for the whole AS or A2 qualification.
