Mark Scheme for June 2016

OCR (Oxford Cambridge and RSA) is a leading UK awarding body, providing a wide range of qualifications to meet the needs of candidates of all ages and abilities. OCR qualifications include AS/A Levels, Diplomas, GCSEs, Cambridge Nationals, Cambridge Technicals Functional Skills, Key Skills, Entry Level qualifications, NVQs and vocational qualifications in areas such as IT, business, languages, teaching/training, administration and secretarial skills.

It is also responsible for developing new specifications to meet national requirements and the needs of students and teachers. OCR is a not-for-profit organisation; any surplus made is invested back into the establishment to help towards the development of qualifications and support, which keep pace with the changing needs of today's society.

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and students, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which marks were awarded by examiners. It does not indicate the details of the discussions which took place at an examiners' meeting before marking commenced.

All examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the published question papers and the report on the examination.

OCR will not enter into any discussion or correspondence in connection with this mark scheme.

Question	Answer	Marks	Guidance
1a	A	[1]
1b	(i) Archaeological evidence/physical remains/found in the baths/ photograph of actual remains/ photograph of real remains not reconstruction. (ii) Does not explain the reason for piles of bricks/ does not show how floor was heated.	[1+1]
1c	Answers may include: Image 1: Feature: Arched/vaulted ceiling Reason: means that pillars are not needed to support the roof/gives open space; collects condensation so that the ceiling doesn't drip Feature: Shelving/niches hanging from the wall Reason: keeps floor clear of objects/gives more space. Image 2: Feature: underfloor heating Reason: allows heat to circulate Feature: piles of bricks Reason: allows for good circulation of heat.	[4]
2a	Dinner/an invitation to dinner	[1]

2b	Answers may include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • He refers to the fact that his patron cannot avoid him: escape; • The flattery he uses cannot be true: whiter than snow as opposed to more filthy than a baby's bib/ few hairs and Achilles' locks; • Choice of words: dregs; • Menogenes' over-reaction to everything: express amazement; • Hyperbole/exaggeration: a thousand irritations. 	[4]
3	Answers might include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In Scipio's day people went to get clean but now they want sunbathing/ looking at the view. • Baths in Scipio's time were plain/not decorated. Seneca comments on the fancy decoration; accept examples of decoration from the text. These are all exaggerated and he does not approve of the pressure to build more highly decorated bath suites. • There was no running water then/ water was not piped in. Now there are silver taps pouring out water. He says people did not care as long as the dirt was gone. 	[4]	Balance of argument is not required.

Question	Answer	Marks	Guidance
4	Answers may include: Baths were intended in the first place to keep clean as few, even the rich, had private bath houses. Source B Suggests that the baths were used for more than this. As far as Menogenes is concerned, his pleasure will be gained in an invitation “come to dinner”. However, for the patron the pleasure is not so great in that he is pestered by his poor client. Source C Seneca complains that baths are not just a practical building for washing as in the olden days. Seneca’s contemporaries expect high quality marble and silver taps along with a tan. This is a pleasurable experience for them. Other sources might include: Seneca: these may be intended as for use or pleasure: The bath complex could be used for exercise; dumb bells and ball games; People could buy food – sausages and drinks; beauty treatments (though depilation does not sound a pleasure). Columella: On the practicalities of a bath house on an estate. Accept details of named bath complexes.	[6]	Content: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Answers should be marked using the 6mark specification grid • 6 points are not necessary for full marks • Do not award on points or ticks • There must be references to other sources for higher levels 	Levels of Response 5-6 3-4 2 0-1
