5 Yana is a 17 year old with a range of complex medical and social needs. During a home visit her parents tell Yana’s social worker that Yana no longer needs to go to college or receive support. She has been promised to a man from their country of origin and they will soon be going to the wedding. The social worker tells them that she is concerned about this. The parents become angry and say that the social worker knows nothing about their culture and should not tell them what to do. The social worker started to feel anxious and so she left.
